

PROGRAMME SPECIFIC OUTCOMES (PSOs) / COURSE OUTCOMES

Department of Environmental Studies

Courses offered to All Hons. Students

Sem	Type of Course	Course Name	PSOs/Course Outcomes
I & II	AECC	Environmental Studies	The undergraduate students will be empowered by this course in the following ways: <ul style="list-style-type: none">i. Acquiring in-depth knowledge of the natural resources and processes that support life and regulate the economy.ii. Recognising and forecasting how human behaviour affects the global economy, the web of life, and the standard of living for all.iii. The development of critical thinking skills for the purpose of formulating scientific, social, legal, administrative, and economic strategies for biodiversity conservation, environmental justice, and sustainable development.iv. Developing values and attitudes towards comprehending intricate environmental economic-social issues and actively taking part in resolving present environmental issues and averting those that arise in the future.v. Promoting the adoption of sustainable practices in business, society, and daily life.

Courses offered to B.A. (Prog.)/B.Com. Students

Sem	Type of Course	Course Name	PSOs/Course Outcomes
I & II	AECC	Environmental Studies	The undergraduate students will be empowered by this course in the following ways: <ul style="list-style-type: none">i. Acquiring in-depth knowledge of the natural resources and processes that support life and regulate the economy.ii. Recognising and forecasting how human behaviour affects the global economy, the web of life, and the standard of living for all.iii. The development of critical thinking skills for the purpose of formulating scientific, social, legal, administrative, and economic strategies for biodiversity conservation, environmental justice, and sustainable development.iv. Developing values and attitudes towards comprehending intricate environmental economic-social issues and actively taking part in resolving present environmental issues and averting those that arise in the future.v. Promoting the adoption of sustainable practices in business, society, and daily life.