ZAKIR HUSAIN DELHI COLLEGE EVENING (A Brief History)

Zakir Husain Delhi College, one of the oldest and most prestigious colleges in Delhi, comes with the legacy of a rich and a historically significant past. The institution traces its origins back to a Madrasa, founded by Ghaziuddin Firoz Jung that went on to become one of Delhi's leading places of learning. Until the late eighteenth century, the Madrasa was located near a Mosque just outside Ajmeri Gate, one of the gates of the walled city of Shahjahanabad. Built in the Indo-Saracenic style, the old building was designed with all the elements of a Madrasa-Mosque, Maktaba, a library and a double tier of Hujras for the students. The Madrasa, at that time, functioned as a traditional Muslim institution of higher learning with Arabic and Persian being taught to a small number of students.

The British took over Delhi in 1803, and this humble abode of learning became Delhi College, also popularly known as 'Dilli College' in 1825. The institution remained one of the centres of the Delhi Renaissance during 1830-40s. It was closed down after the War of Independence in 1857, only to open two decades later in 1877, when it was merged with the Government College of Lahore.

Initially, Arabic and Persian were the main languages taught at the Madrasa. However, with the establishment of British rule across the country, there was an increasing desire for teaching-learning of English. The College, however, retained Urdu as medium of studies with special emphasis on Arabic, Persian and Sanskrit. One of the salient features of Delhi College was that modern subjects like Mathematics, Geometry, Philosophy, and Physics, amongst other sciences were taught in Urdu. The college set up the Delhi Vernacular Society in 1832 for the translation of scientific treatises, Greek classics and Persian works into Urdu. The teachers and the students became the centre of a scientific and literary flowering that C.F. Andrew's referred to as 'the Delhi Renaissance.'

The old Delhi College progressed with Oriental and Western education, a step to uphold secularization and modernization because its purpose was to provide both traditional and modern knowledge to the students. With the advancement of science, the College was able to create an atmosphere of rationality to challenge shackles of conservatism. As has been said by Sir Syed Ahmed Khan "We should have philosophy in our right hand, Natural Science in the left and the crown of 'Kalma-e-Tayyaba' on our head".

The partition of India, in 1947, led to the brief closure of the College. But the strenuous efforts of Mirza Mehmood Begg, a thorough philanthropist and a visionary in the field of education, led to the revival of Delhi College. With the cooperation of a few old and new members of the faculty and patrons, he instilled a new lease of life in the College. Begg's position as the Principal of the college ensured a modest beginning in 1947 with 200-250 students which later flowered into a fully-fledged institution accommodating more than a thousand students. It was under his stewardship that evening classes were started in 1958 to enable employed youth to continue their education. Thus, the Evening College catered to a wide variety and a relatively bigger number of students. In the mid-1970s, the college suffered from an absolute cash crunch and financial crisis, and was subsequently handed over to the Zakir Husain Memorial Trust. The new name of the college was Zakir Husain College in 1975.

The Evening College began with a course called Preparatory Class. It received a grant from the UGC in 1969 and, thereafter, new rooms were constructed for Vice-Principal, the Bursar and a separate library for the students. The infrastructure of the College improved in the subsequent years under the able guidance of the former Principals-Mr. Manzoor Husain Musavi, Dr. Mohit Kumar Haldar, Dr. Syed Ahmad Ali, Mr. Salman Ghani Hashmi, Mr. Roop Lal Sharma, Mr. Mohd Riaz Umar, Dr. S.A. Hamideen, Dr. M.N. Sitaraman and Dr. Shankar Lal. As a recent development, air conditioners were installed in the college office, staff-room and in the library. The facility of networking and internet was made available to the teachers as well as the students. Today, the College has a modern computer lab. Computers have also been provided in the library. Compactors have been installed in the library to create more space and to keep books free from dust.

The college has maintained its sustained trajectory of development under the leadership of the Principal, Dr. M.A. Beg who joined the College in 2015. The infrastructure of the college has greatly improved. With more CCTV cameras at various spots, vigorous patrolling by an increased number of security personnel and a vigilant Proctorial Board, student discipline has seen a tremendous improvement. Classrooms are well lit, and equipped with LCD projectors. The elevators have been made functional for the Evening College. LCD screens in the staffroom and outside the Academic Block ensure that the college fraternity is informed of important circulars and notices, including schedule of classes and teachers on leave.

The college building is being refurbished. A new committee room has been set up. The college has a computer Centre with more than one hundred computers in the library for the use of students. With the cooperation and guidance of the Principal, various departments organised seminars, conferences and workshops over the last year. The Mirza Mehmood Begg Memorial Lecture, in memory of the legendary founder Principal of the college from 1947-1964, was organised in 2016, 2017 and 2018, and will remain an annual feature. Zakir Husain Delhi College (Evening) therefore maintains an amicable blend between the old and the new – we have moved forward keeping in tune with the times, and yet, the college makes every effort to uphold the values that characterised Delhi College in the 19th century. It continues to maintain the “Ganga Jamuna Tehzeeb” that characterised the college. The College steadfastly practices the ideals of secularism and tolerance, gender and social equality. The teachers and students come from different backgrounds and communities, and bonding in the face of this diversity is quintessential to the values of the college. Students learn to uphold these cultural values and yet be open to new ideas.

Despite the nigh insurmountable odds against our favour, we have managed to organize and execute three national level events in which students as well as academics enjoyed themselves to the fullest and also received socio-cultural and intellectual knowledge as well. According to me, these events represent the very soul of what college-life is supposed to be. ZAKLIT 2023 will always be close to my heart as it was a completely new experience for me. The students of our college had an absolute blast attending and participating in the event, particularly in the ‘PAIDIÁ TOU APÓLLONA’ Talent Competition but personally, I am a tad bit biased towards the ‘DISCO ELYSIUM’ Quiz. The National Conference was a metaphorical eye-opener for me as well as the multiple student volunteers attending it. Let us hope that the English Department and the English Literary Society of Zakir Husain Delhi College (Evening) will keep on performing at maximum levels of excellence and expertise so that our college can achieve even greater socio-cultural and intellectual heights.

The internationally renowned Qawwals, Shahid Niazi and Sameer Niazi Brothers, were invited as guest artists. After an impressive performance by the artists on the stage, the program began with the lighting of candles. Following that, Professor Zaheer Rahmati shed light on the tradition and significance of Qawwali, stating that Qawwali has a very ancient history and a deep connection with the Sufi tradition. Many Sufis used to enjoy Qawwali, and they used to organize Qawwali gatherings with great dedication. Moreover, Qawwali has gained special popularity among the general public as well. It is heartening to see that even in the present time, Qawwali continues to have a strong allure, which indicates that Qawwali is a thriving sub-genre of Urdu poetry. We can hope that its popularity will continue to flourish in the coming times as well. He further expressed that Qawwali has a deep connection with the promotion of the Urdu language. Many people have learned Urdu to sing and listen to Qawwali, and through Qawwali sessions held in various circles, Urdu has become familiar to them. It is our good fortune that Bazm-e-Adab Zakir Husain Delhi College Evening continues to organize the Qawwali program every year with great pomp and show, and a large number of college professors and students participate in it. The fully packed auditorium is a testament to the success of this program.

Professor Zaheer Rahmati introduced the guest Qawwals and mentioned that Shahid Niazi and Sami Niazi Brothers hail from the historical city of Rampur. They belong to a famous and ancient Qawwali family, and singing Qawwali has been a beloved profession for many decades. As Qawwali has a heartfelt and emotional connection, the tradition is still alive in their family, and even today, they are highly respected in many countries and are invited with great honor. Many awards have also been conferred upon this family. We are grateful to Shahid Niyazi and Sami Niyazi Baradras for accepting our invitation and gracing our event with their voices.

After the opening and introductory remarks, the series of Qawwalis began. Initially, Hamdiya and Naatiya Qawwalis were presented, creating a spiritual ambiance in the auditorium. Swami Vivekananda ji has rightly said, "Arise! Awake! And do not stop until the goal is reached." These words of Swami ji has inspired me to work for the society. During the lockdown period I, alongwith my friends continuously ran the feeding drive for 2 months for the needy people in our hometown Rangapara (Assam). Alongwith feeding drive, cloth distribution, mask distribution, awareness on Covid and helping the healthcare department in vaccination has motivated me a lot to serve the society. NSS too gave me this opportunity to continue the journey with the motto of "Not me but you." The Motto itself describes every dimension of society. The National Adventure Camp held at ABVIMAS, Manali has added a special memory to my NSS journey. Every day at Manali was challenging as it was filled with adventurous activity but the best part was to fall and rise again together with the volunteers from different states. Rock climbing, rappelling, acclimatization, river crossing, trekking was some of the daily activity. We visited Sharvari Temple, Hidimba temple, Vasisht temple, Solang Valley, Mall road and Jogini waterfalls. Trekking 14 kilometres to Solang valley with the 70 volunteers was very difficult but together we all did it. We were also accompanied by six dogs who was with us throughout the camp. Learning different languages, culture, their traditions and living with them made me to feel the diverse culture of Bharat. The best part of my camp was interacting with the local people. The apple tree was the major point of attraction. NSS gave me a new horizon and taught me that if there's anything for society that I must do, I shall and will do it.

National Integration camp; was one of the best and most memorable events of my life. Those 6 days of the camp were something that can never go out of my mind, so many cultures under one roof, representing the whole of India was truly mesmerizing. As a part of the Delhi team, I not only represented the diverse culture of Delhi but got to experience other cultures as well.

Naati; the folk dance of Himachal Pradesh was something that all the members of the camp got to learn. Whether it's about food, dance, music, drama, or of course site visiting, nothing can go wrong. Despite all this, Competitions were there but no one treated anyone as a competitor. Nss logo, "not me but you" could be seen there. one of the best and most memorable events of my life.

Joining NSS has been one of the most transformative experiences of my life. When I first signed up, I had no idea what to expect. I was nervous, but excited to step out of my comfort zone and engage in community service. The experience has not only helped me develop personally but has also opened doors for me professionally. It has provided me with opportunities to meet new people, work on exciting projects, and learn new skills.

Aman Kumar Sahani

I never thought that joining NSS can lead to one of my best experiences in life. Working as a volunteer and then working as a joint secretary, these 2 years are fabulous for me, I got to learn a lot. I am very grateful that I got to be in such a body that gave me a taste of professionalism and showed me how a team works while balancing friendships and work ethics. NSS, not only positively transformed my personality but also allowed me to work for the community and it certainly would be in proudest moment of my life.

Swatantra Tyagi
Volunteer

NSS taught me to do many things which I might not be able to do in any other society but I was able to do it through the medium. Like if we do any special activity which helps our special members, like Art, Craft and Decoration. It can be volunteering or Cleanliness Drive or Yoga Session. During this I have worked a little selflessly for someone or something. It has taught me that nothing is ever fixed. Whatever happens you have to decide immediately you have to take some work. NSS to me is not just a society, it's a family! In these two years i learnt more than I expected any society to teach. Thanks to my seniors and our Programme officer. NSS gave me those experiences that I'll cherish for my entire life. I also contributed as a volunteer in designing the magazine. It's an honor to be a part of the amazing team

Ayush Mishra

My experience of working for NSS has been really great. Not only did I learnt plethora of things but also got to know that there are various places where students/ Volunteers like us are keenly needed to help others and work for them. Being honest I would say that, under this unit I have got to explore most important things which I don't think I could have experienced anywhere else. NSS is a platform where you get to know that where do you stand and what your capabilities are and at which things you are good at.
